ABOUT INSTITUTION

Kumaraguru College of Liberal Arts and Science (KCLAS) is grounded in the rich tradition of Liberal Arts education, fostering holistic development through interdisciplinary learning and in-depth disciplinary knowledge. Drawing inspiration from global and Indian knowledge traditions and aligned with the organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) Learning Framework 2030. KCLAS equips students with critical thinking, ethical reasoning, creativity, and future-ready skills. With a forward-looking, research-focused approach, KCLAS nurtures lifelong learners and socially responsible individuals prepared to contribute meaningfully to a rapidly evolving society and economy.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

The School of Social Work at Kumaraguru College of Liberal Arts and Science (KCLAS) adopts a practice-oriented Liberal Arts approach that integrates theory, field engagement, and reflective learning. Aligned with the OECD Learning Framework 2030, the School emphasizes experiential learning, community immersion, ethical practice, and problem-solving skills. Through structured fieldwork, internships, research exposure, and interdisciplinary collaboration, students are prepared to work effectively with individuals, groups, and communities. The School nurtures socially responsive professionals equipped to address contemporary social issues and contribute to inclusive and sustainable social change.
